

Announcement from the Foundation for the Promotion of Human Research in Thailand

at MCU 011/2022

Subject: Amending the announcement of fees for ethical consideration of human research

According to the resolution of the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Foundation for the Promotion of Human Research in Thailand on July 6, 2022, there was a resolution to amend the announcement of fees for ethical consideration of human research.

Central Research Ethics Committee (CREC) as follows:

The following details

type	Research project consideration rate (Baht)
	main research institute	Sub-research institutes (each)
Research projects that receive private research funding
new research project	50,000	According to the announcement of the institute
old research project (Request for renewal of certification)	20,000	According to the announcement of the institute
Research project that has been considered (request for amendments to the research outline (Amendment)/ Add a research location	10,000	According to the announcement of the institute
Report requesting amendments to the research outline: (Amendment) certified by the Local EC of the research institute Participate in CREC-approved research projects. Submit a report for consideration with CREC (local amendments) (Amendment that is site-specific))	No fee charged	According to the announcement of the institute
Report adverse events, report non-compliance Requirements, research project closure report and report for information various	No fee charged	According to the announcement of the institute
Research projects that receive research funding from government agencies/royal colleges/medical professional associations
new research project	25,000	According to the announcement of the institute
old research project (Request for renewal of certification)	10,000	According to the announcement of the institute
Research project that has been considered (request for amendments to the research outline (Amendment)/ Add a research location	5,000	According to the announcement of the institute
Report requesting amendments to the research outline: (Amendment) certified by the Local EC of the research institute Participate in CREC-approved research projects. Submit a report for consideration with CREC (local amendments) (Amendment that is site-specific))	No fee charged	According to the announcement of the institute

type	Research project consideration rate (Baht)
	main research institute	Sub-research institutes (each)
Adverse event reports, non-compliance reports, research project closure reports and various reports	No fee charged According to the announcement of the institute

Notes attached to the announcement of the Foundation for the Promotion of Human Research in Thailand at MSCT

011/2022: 1. Researchers can pay the consideration fee at Krung Thai Bank, account name: Foundation for the Promotion of Human Research in Thailand, savings account type, account number 981-2-84782-0 2. Ask the researcher to Proceed with payment of the consideration fee and submit evidence of payment. Fee payment and submission Documents requested for consideration must be complete, then the documents will be taken into the next consideration process. 3.

Payment of fees for for joint research institutes It is the responsibility of the researcher and the research funder in accordance with the institutional announcements. Including preparing documents for submission to the joint research institute. It's a responsibility. of researchers and research funders, with the number of documents depending on the according to the requirements of that institution --

4. In the case where the researcher has transferred the fee before The research project documents have not yet been submitted. After canceling and requesting a refund, the Foundation will deduct 20% of the transferred fee. As for the service fee from the bank, the researcher will be responsible.

This is effective from now on.

Announced on July 6, 2022.

(Prof. Dr. Kwanchanok Yimtae)

Chairman of the Executive Committee

Foundation for the Promotion of Human Research in Thailand